Briony Angus is a Senior Project Manager and Associate at Tighe & Bond. She manages a variety of renewable energy projects at Tighe & Bond including solar PV, anaerobic digestion, wind, hydro, storage, and resiliency projects. She helps to lead Tighe & Bond's business development efforts for renewable energy, and is responsible for the growth and performance of the firm's renewable energy services. She has an in-depth understanding of regulations and incentives for clean energy development. Briony formerly was an Environmental Analyst at the Massachusetts Environmental Policy Act (MEPA) Office and worked for the Town of Brookline, MA Department of Public Works and Conservation Department.

SPEAKERS

Amy Barad, Director of Commercial Programs
Massachusetts Clean Energy Center
63 Franklin Street, 3rd Floor Boston, MA 02110
(617) 315-9310 | abarad@masscec.com

Amy Barad is a Program Director at the Massachusetts Clean Energy. Her focus is on programs that assist developers of commercial-scale generation (anaerobic digestion, land-based wind, and small hydropower) or address the needs of commercial-scale buildings. She has been with MassCEC since its inception. Amy holds an M.S. in Natural Resources from the University of Michigan.

Jennifer Daloisio, CFO
Massachusetts Clean Energy Center
63 Franklin Street, 3rd Floor Boston, MA 02110
(617) 315-9355 | jdaloisio@masscec.com

As Chief Financial Officer, Jennifer Daloisio brings over 20 years of experience in accounting and finance, leading MassCEC's finance and IT teams and overseeing the investments in the Renewable Energy Trust and Alternative and Clean Energy Investment Trust. Prior to joining MassCEC, Jennifer served as an Audit Director at Deloitte, where she served clients ranging in size from startup to multi-national in a variety of industries, including energy, retail and manufacturing. Jennifer is a Certified Public Accountant and holds a Bachelor of Science in Business Administration from the University of New Hampshire.

Kavita Ravi, Director of Emerging Markets
Massachusetts Clean Energy Center
63 Franklin Street, 3rd Floor Boston, MA 02110
(617) 315-9343 | kravi@masscec.com

Dr. Kavita Ravi is the Director of Emerging Markets at MassCEC, where she is responsible for promoting emerging markets such as energy storage, clean transportation, and grid modernization in Massachusetts. In 2016, she co-led the State of Charge report that explored the market opportunities and barriers for energy storage in Massachusetts. In 2017, she is leading programs to demonstrate viable business models for energy storage in the marketplace and a study to explore clean transportation opportunities in Massachusetts. Previously, she has also established a program to support universities and companies leverage clean energy funding opportunities. Prior to MassCEC, Kavita worked on microgrids and energy access issues with the U.S. Department of Energy and Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratories. From 2011 through 2013, she served as a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science at the U.S. Department of Energy where she led market transforming programs to promote energy efficiency. Kavita has a Ph.D in Computer Engineering from the University of Colorado at Boulder and worked for several years in the private sector commercializing the technology of her doctoral research.

Kelsey Read, Project Manager Solar Programs
Massachusetts Clean Energy Center
63 Franklin Street, 3rd Floor Boston, MA 02110
(617) 315-9301 | kread@masscec.com

Kelsey Read is a Project Manager for Commonwealth Solar Programs with the Massachusetts Clean Energy Center (MassCEC). He is leading MassCEC's efforts in the partnership with the Department of Energy Resources on the $40 million Mass Solar Loan program. He also drives MassCEC's efforts to support general industry growth and the availability of financing for the onsite commercial solar market. Kelsey earned a degree in Economics and Physics from Bowdoin College. Kelsey comes to MassCEC having previously worked in the field of Economic and Environmental Research.
